BII Honors the Top Students of ESAV (formerly ISET) in Rosso

Retour aux actualités

Banque Internationale d'Investissement (BII) took part, on July 9, 2026, in the graduation ceremony of the Higher School of Agronomy and Veterinary Sciences (ESAV, formerly ISET) in Rosso, honoring seven top-ranking students from their respective classes for the excellence of their academic achievements.

A key event in the academic calendar, this ceremony marked the completion of a demanding educational journey and the beginning of a new stage in the professional lives of the graduates. By supporting this event, BII wished to recognize the achievements of these seven students and extend its warmest congratulations for their accomplishments, while expressing its best wishes for success in their future endeavors.

A continued commitment to supporting young talents

Convinced that today's talents will contribute to building the Mauritania of tomorrow, BII reaffirms, through this initiative, its commitment to promoting academic excellence, developing skills, and supporting young people who will become the future drivers of the country's economic and social development.

Strong support for the agricultural sector

Beyond the individual recognition of the graduates, this initiative reflects BII's commitment to supporting the development of Mauritania's agricultural sector. The Bank aims to contribute to strengthening skills and training future professionals in the sector, while supporting the emergence of a new generation of talents capable of addressing the challenges of food security and self-sufficiency, as well as the related issues of innovation and sustainable development.

Through this initiative, BII confirms its role alongside Mauritanian academic institutions and its ambition to make a lasting contribution to promoting excellence and developing the skills of tomorrow.
